Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill

Dr. Merrill Sees Golden Rule Need

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of articles about distinguished Americans who are members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.)

By Nell Smith

A practical application and practice of the "golden rule" between nations as sound preventive and healing medicine for the ills of today's world, is the prescription of Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, Director of the Department of Public Health for the State of California.

Scene of the Messenger's interview with this distinguished citizen and Church member was the comfortable living room, with an expansive window view of the sunset over the bay, in the doctor's Berkeley hills home.

Obviously a man who perfers the company of his family and relaxing at home with his books, the duties of Dr. Merrill's profession permits him infrequent opportunity to indulge himself in this manner. His position as a public officer requires him to travel throughout the State and sometimes even out of the country.

His experiences during assignments to Russia, India, Gautamala and other countries have confirmed his opinion that the problems of the world today are mostly sociological. Public Health with its avenues to improvements in standards of livnig, seems to serve as a common springboard for friendly discussions. Much as " . . . music knows no language barriers between nationalities."

"I believe that if the peoples of the nations, of the states, communities or neighborhoods could really get to know each other;

JAMES J. McFARLANE, graduated from UC Dental College.

McFarlane Graduated As Dentist

James J. "Jim" McFarlane, formerly of Elmhurst Ward, Oakland Stake, now Oakland Second Ward, Hayward Stake, received the doctor of dental surgery degree from the University of California School of Dentistry at commencement exercises in Berkeley June 11.

Jim is the son of Brother and Sister Horace J. McFarlane, who reside in the Oakland Second Ward. The Horace McFarlanes are well known in the Bay Area and have been active in the Church since coming to Oakland from Ogden, Utah, in 1931. Horace McFarlane, now a member of the Hayward Stake High Council, was bishop of the Elmhurst Ward from January, 1932, to February, 1940. Sister McFarlane also has held various positions of leadership in the wards and stakes.

Jim, after graduating from high school in Oakland, served with the armed forces in World War II, fulfilled a mission in the Palestine-Syrian and French Missions and obtained his BA and MS from Brigham Young University before entering dental school. At the BYU he was awarded a National Science Foundation Research fellowship for two consecutive years.

In dental school Jim was given a U.S. Public Health Service research grant engaged in research for two years along with his dental studies. He was president of his class during both the junior and senior years and was a member of the Student-Faculty Liaison Committee during his final year. At graduation he was named one of the six outstanding students in his class and was awarded the Mosby Award for Scholastic Excellence. He also was presented with a certificate of recognition by the American Academy of Oral Roentgenology as the senior student with the highest achievement in that field at the University.

During his first year at BYU he met and married in the Salt Lake Temple Lolita Ellen Field, a daughter of Dr. Clyde W. Field of Ogden, Utah. They have three children. Lolita received her bachelor of science degree from BYU in 1951.

While Jim was in dental school for four years the McFarlanes lived in Balboa Second Ward, San Francisco Stake, where they were active. Elder McFarlane was in the Sunday School superintendency for three and a half years and was superintendent for one year prior to his release. Lolita taught in Junior Sunday School and in the MIA and was MIA organist.

Boxes Readied For Fund Drive

By Nell Smith

Is that salt box ready for the call from the "Second-mile Runners?" If not, better get it out where it can be seen and filled.

The "Second Mile" club was instigated under the joint leadership of Lois Cook and Mary Jane Root, and every Castro Valley Ward home now contains a salt box. This little box is designed to hold odds and ends of coins to be placed there by all members of the family, guests, friends or even strangers.

Each month a "Second-mile Runner" will call at the home and collect the deposited cash and add it to our constantly growing building fund. It is hoped that each box will contain at least $10 at the month's end, which in a ward of our membership, could add up to a tidy sum.

And who are our "Second-mile Runners" Our Sisters, of course More than 50 of them are on the march, or should that be "run?" They are easily identified by their lapel buttons.

We have made the grade! The surveyor's grade on the chapel site, that is. Two tractors have been working like crazy this past week and we have made a deep cut into the area in which the foundation will be laid. Although dusty and tired after their strenuous labors there were no happier men in Hayward stake than these brothers who were able to make a hearty beginning to the physical construction of the chapel.

The first giant bite was made by Bob Smith who had the same honor at the time of the construction of the Hayward Chapel. But he was soon followed by George Blazin, Ed Dussau, John Hoover, Wayne Noble, Doug Wardell, Martin and Keith Blazin, Ralph Hoover, Ken Smith and Chuck Ruiz who recorded the big event on film. The foregoing names have been mentioned only because this is the first. It is to be hoped that those men and women who will contribute their services from now on will, as the old saying goes, "be too numerous to mention."

INTERESTING ITEMS. The entire Bishop Herber James Brown family are in Canada this month witnessing the marriage of their son, Heber Clark to Ann Toomer. . . They will be home soon for the big reception on June 22 . . .the Doug Wardell family are vacationing and the George Blazin family have left too. . . .rest, dear friends, there is work awaiting you all on your return. . . . HUNDRED YEARS OF MARRIAGE . . . Elder and Mrs. Cornelius Paine, Elder and Mrs. Lawrence Strong prepare to cut the cake of gold in celebration of their joint Golden Wedding anniversaries.

Castro Valley Ward

Party Is Given For 2 Couples

A hundred years of married happiness is worth celebrating even if divided between two couples. So Castro Valley ward members made the double golden wedding anniversaries of two popular couples a day to remember.

Elder and Mrs. Cornelius F. Paine and Elder and Mrs. Lawrence Strong were the honored guests at a golden reception held for them at the Charlene Way home of Elder and Mrs. William A. Millet, long standing friend of both couples.

Arrangements for the affair were handled under the direction of the Relief Society presidency, Sisters Garth Ludwig, Cleve Norris and Lee Roe. Mrs. Leona Webb, South County's best known wedding cake creator, baked and decorated the beautiful cake done in gold.

Residents of the Hayward area for over 30 years, the Paines now reside on Hayward boulevard. Speaking of the marriage which brought four children eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild, Brother Paine said, "We attribute our happy marriage to respect for each other."

Castro Valley has been home for the Strongs for over 20 years. Their three sons, together with their parents' eight grandchildren were all present at the festivities.

Elder Strong said that working together was the secret of their successful marriage and the same principle could be applied to all marriages. Both couples are active members of the Castro Valley ward.

Gloria Gay

Gloria Gay Wins Top Class Honor

Gloria Gay was named outstanding senior by the Girls' Athletic Association of Castro Valley High School at a recent student and parent dinner. She is the daughter of Elder and Mrs. Grant Gay of Castro Valley Ward, Hayward Stake.

Just before Thanksgiving last year Gloria was in an automobile accident in which her pelvis was broken in two places. She was out of school for over two months and when she returned she walked with a limp.

Always a leader in sports, however, Gloria's determination came through and she earned a manager's pin, senior stripe and passed the Senior Life Saving test. Her reward was her name on a permanent plaque at C.V.H. school, an attractive desk set with gold trophy and the loss of her limp!

Gloria has served as G.A.A. president and has been an active member of school clubs and organizations. In September she will enter B.Y.U., with her sister Joyce, where she will major in Physical Education.

Rocking Bed Given To Honoree At Birthday Party

Sister Opal Parker was surprized on her 47th birthday with a party given by a few ladies of Castro Valley Ward on June 17.

It was no ordinary birthday celebration for the guest of honor received in a rocking chair! Confined to a local hospital, Sister Parker is totally paralyized and must have mechanical assistance for every breath she takes.

Just one year ago Sister Parker was baptized by Elder James K. McCluskey, Sr., who met Opal while visiting the hospital with his wife Ora, when they were serving as Stake missionaries. It did not take Sister Parker long to realize that she had found the truth and she was soon making the special arrangements with her doctors for her baptism.

After Sister Parker acknowledged her pleasant surprize she told her guests that she had a surprize for her own. She had loaned a Book of Mormon to one of her nurses and was doing a little missionary work. Always cheerful, although she has strength only for limited participation in visiting, she leaves caller with a light heart.

Leo Parker, her husband, and their married daughter Betty Dale, called at the room, especially arranged by hospital attendants, to share the cake and present gifts. Mr. Parker works nearby and can enjoy frequent visits with his wife during the day. They have two grandchildren.

Hanna Strong baked the festive cake and the guest list included Sisters Edna Wood and Magdalene Van Zweden, her Relief Society visiting teachers; Sisters Eulalia Gatterer, Aura Kirk and Edythe Rosenkrans, Stake missionaries; Sister Ora McCluskey and Rosemary Ludwig, Relief Society president.

Friends who would like to call on Sister Parker may receive information regarding proper visiting hours from President Ludwig, LUcerne 2-6662. Cards or other mail should be addressed to, Mrs. Opal Parker, Ward C1, Fairmont Hospital, San Leandro.

The bodice was of chantilly lace with a scalloped neckline accented with seed pearls and chantilly lace over tiers of foursequins. It had long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands and featured a row of tiny buttons, A lace crown embroidered with seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip illusion veil. The bridal boquet was a cascade of white stephanotis and white orchids.

Little Sheryl Hansen, niece of the bride from Ventucopa, Calif., was the flower girl. She wore blue organdy and a circlet of blue flowers held her tiny veil. She carried a basket of white carnations tied with a blue bow and streamer.

The bride's mother wore aqua blue nylon over blue taffeta, a hat of dainty blue flowers with pink accessories and a pink orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink embroidered taffeta sheath with taffeta overskirt with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Bishop Nielsen Off To Seattle

By Dora Friedrich

Joining the list of those who will be absent from Pleasant Hill Ward during the summer vacation is Bishop Von R. Nielsen, who left June 27 for summer studies at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Bishop Nielsen, head of the foreign language department of Pleasant Hill High School, received a National Defense Education Act Grant, and will study the use of electronic equipment as an aid to acquiring speaking ability.

Counselor William Matthews will assume Bishop Nielsen's responsibilities until his return on Aug. 24.

Metta and the Nielsen youngsters will "keep the home fires burning.

RECEIVING scholastic honors is Kathy Perona, daughter of Maurine and Ray Perona, who was one of 20 California girls selected to study at California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo this summer. Kathy, an honor student, will graduate in 1950 from Pleasant Hill High.

Among the 1959 graduates at the school were Martin Davis and Don Redden.

By Virginia Badger

Beehive girls Pat Owen and Judy Duncan of Livermore Ward have benn graduated as Honor Bees. Theirs was the only class in Hayward Stake with 100 per cent individual awards. On May 26 they built a hive in their own ward; and the mutual presented each girl with a Church book of her choice. After the presentation the girls gave their Beehive teacher, Earlene Clement, a carnation corsage and a suprise party. Also present were Sister Margaret Openshaw, San Luis Obispo Stake Beekeeper, and YWMIA President R. Lou Allen.

The Relief Society closing social was a special luncheon held June 2 in the banquet room of the new Livermore Bowl. Honored for being members of Livermore's first Church organization were Merle Creager and Della McLaughlin. Ellen Wardrobe was also honored for the many quilt tops she has made and donated to the Relief Society.

The 40 ladies present enjoyed the following program: Sister McLaughlin gave the history of the Livermore Branch and showed some snapshots. Christa Fuegener sang "In Evening's Glow" and "Sisters Be Lovely and Kind." Marilyn McGrew performed two modern dances. Anniversaries Are Celebrated

By Janeth Doxey

As June 6th, their 41st Wedding Anniversary approached, Zelnora and Bill Evans decided to ask a few friends in to help them celebrate. They called Mr. and Mrs. Alman Rosecrans in Sacramento whose 39th Anniversary occured the same day and whom they have known for 32 years. They too thought it would be fun so they arrived at the Evanses home with some of their close relatives and the celebration was on.

Pink Chrysanthemums graced the center of the table which was covered with a lace cloth. Silver candleabra held pink candles and the punchbowl and cake were edged with pink carnations. Tiny pink rosebuds were on the mantel, while lavender and white flowers with purple grapes made a pretty arrangement in the library.

Mrs. Rosecrans and Mrs. Evans chose pink gowns with orchids.

Anna Calhoun presided at the punch bowl; Fern Nelson and Rayma Brush cut the cake.

The garden made a cozy place to relax in.

Zelnora and Bill entertained at dinner the following day for their out-of-town guests who enjoyed a tour through the beautiful Interstake Center before their departure to Sacramento.

Also, on June 6th a Welfare Dinner was held at the Oakland Second Ward. La Maun Clark made the delicious bread which was served that night. The program was excellent and the evening was a success financially.

We wish to welcome into our ward Loretta Green who was baptized on June 6th.

The following are home from B.Y.U. - Jay and Shirley Rounds, Karen Shaw, Gale Biddle, and Gerrold Todd. Ann Sutton has been teaching in Arizona and is home also.

By Joan Robison

Returning home from June Conference, Hayward Second ward MIA officers announced plans for a summer program geared to please the teen-agers. One afternoon in July will find the entire Mutual in San Francisco enjoying "My Fair Lady." The Relief Society will be holding two or three evening sewing bees a month throughout the summer. Karen Stone is starting early to organize the activities aimed at making the November bazaar a success. Cake sales are also on the docket under the direction of the presidency.

The Primary launched its summer program on June 16 with regular classwork and fun activities. Games, songs, outings and "bop" dancing instruction are all part of the outline for the summer.

Welcome back to our many conference attenders: Marylyn Eyer, Ruth Hunter, Dorothy Nish, Margene Fowler, Eunice Jones, Jack James, Virginia Jones, and Lucille Callahan. The Tom Wilsons were Texas bound; Barbara Pimentel and her boys went to the California mountains; and the Alten Davises were thinking about going to Washington. Hawaiian Members Assisting With Dances, Music, Songs

By Echo May

Hawaiians come into a ward and soon they are stirring the membership into greater activity by their faith-promoting lives, and by their colorful dances, music and songs. A group of 38, calling themselves "Ka Hui Lau Lima (United Workers,) have been helping in ward fund drives. They are now preparing such a Hawaiian Show to be called "A Night In Blue Hawaii."

Eighteen of the troop are from Mission Ward and twenty from San Francisco. July 17th, San Francisco Ward can expect a night of excellent entertainment.

Dr. E. Wayne Wright, coordinator of Counseling service for Utah State University at Logan, Utah, was in San Francisco May 31. He took his father, Charles E. Wright, back with him to Logan by plane. Ronalda Wright followed by train later in the week. It is hoped that "Ed" may recuperate quickly from his recent operation.

San Francisco Ward completed 66 pairs of boys' pants in approximately 240 hours and the whole 180 pair allotment in three weeks. Four young mothers did baby-sitting so other mothers could sew. One of the Priesthood-bearers did a bit of bar-tacking and a number of men helped with the night transportation problem but the women took care of their own transporting in the day-time.

The Kenneth Glews of 591 - Second Avenue already have an infant Family Organization in process. Arlene is coming from Orem, Utah, with the grandchild, John Clyde Williamson. Harold, the young father will come for his family within a month. Jordon Glew is home while his wife, Maureen, is visiting with her folks, the Carl Shipps of Salt Lake City. Everly, returning from BYU for vacation, has marriage on her mind. It is, indeed, an expanding family - the Glews.

Michael Daily, David Alger, Jr., and Hans Kramer did the honors for Troop 91 at the Scoutorama performance in Kezar Stadium, Saturday, June 6th. They played the part of Indians and danced with the freedom of earlier Americans. Jim Daily, Jr., Explorer, had the Walkie Talkie as a messenger for Scout Officials, and Dick Fairweather, Scoutmaster, and Doyle Hanson, Institutional Representative.

James Lynce, Explorer of San Francisco Ward, is now stationed at Occidental Station, California Forestry, on Fire Detail out of Santa Rosa for the summer. He is earning his way for another term at College.

Lovely Beverly Barsamian, of Armenian lineage, daughter of Kay Barsamian and Ann Avakan of 655 - 43rd Avenue, was confirmed a member of the San Francisco Ward and Stake on Fast Sunday, May 31 by Stake Missionary Leon Liddell.

Margaret M. Romano was baptized, June 13, and confirmed a member of the Church, the same day by the full - time missionaries for San Francisco Ward.

The San Francisco Ward Genealogy Committee is talking Temple Excursion for September, and suggest that all who have a desire to go on that pilgrimage, begin now to save a dollar a week for that purpose.

It is only fitting and proper that a public thanks should be given to those who were kind enough to give information to Echo May, 2521 Clement, San Francisco (BA 1-3824 - YU 2 2800 Ext. 30) concerning the picture in last month's Messenger. That picture was turned in for compiling in the Pictorial-Historical Memory Book of San Francisco Stake. Thanks also to all other ward reporters attempting to help in this great work by keeping the compiler supplied with present - day pictures of today's thrilling events.

San Francisco Stake

National, Welfare Problems Similar, Says Elder Clark

By W.W. Collins

Striking parallels between the problems facing our nation and those with which the Church is concerned were drawn by Arben O. Clark, coordinator for the Church General Welfare Committee, in a talk at San Francisco Stake Conference June 6 and 7.

Elder Clark said that the similar problems are balance the budget, unemployment and deficit spending.

"The Church always has cautioned its members to live within their means, to keep credit at a minimum, to avoid going into debt as they would a plague and live their economic life on a pay-as-you-go basis," he said. "Surpluses of food and clothing should be stored for times of emergency."

Elder Clark advised all Latter-day Saints to be honest with their employers, thereby being the best kind of employees. All should be alerted to the curse of idleness. and help others to surmount it, he said.

He said that 87,000 persons were helped through the welfare program of the Church last year.

Stake President Serge J. Lauper said that the welfare program not only helps needy Church members financially, but contributes to their spiritual uplift.

Many in the Church are converted to some principles of the gospel but are apathetic towards others, said President Wallace N. Allred. This apathy is most apparent in lack of concern for their kindred dead, he declared. They do little or no work in the temples for their dead.

The importance of giving to one's fellowmen and through such service grow in the grace of God and fellowship with him, was stressed by President B. Herman Schettler. He spoke of the joy he experiences in associating with the superior men of the General Authorities he meets at conferences.

R. Lee Kenner, seminary coordinator for the Bay Area, emphasized the great good done by the seminaries in expanding the mental, moral and spiritual development of the young people.

Actual construction of the combined Stake House and two-ward chapel at Brunswick Street and Hillside Boulevard in Daly City will begin soon, said Irven G. Derrick, who said that soil is being removed from the site.

He reported that careful planning has preceded every move made looking toward construction of the new building with no loss of manpower, time or money. Approximate cost of the building will be $521,562, including furnishings and landscaping. Cost to San Francisco Stake will be $245,135 and of that amount $80,000 already is on hand. An attempt will be made to collect the remaining $165,000 in 20 monthly payments of $8250 each.

L. Leonard Love, president of the Northern California Mission, reviewed the life of William Clayton and the circumstances under which he wrote the words of the famous Mormon hymn, "Come, Come Ye Saints."

Los Altos Ward

Jessica Goates To Sing Abroad

Jessica Goates, soprano in the Los Altos Ward choir and chorister of the Sunday School, left for the British Isles early in June with other vocalists, to participate in several important musical events. Prominent among them is the Welsh Eisteddfod, a competitive festival held in Caernarvon, Wales, with choruses from 32 countries entered this year. All choruses are in costume. The United States group will comprise some 50 male and female voices and will sing both secular and religious numbers.

The tour which begins in Greenock, Scotland, includes a concert in London for which the BBC has already made TV broadcast arrangements. As part of the social entertainment, a member of Parliament is giving a reception and dinner. After the tour, which extends into August, sister Goates will visit Austria and other countries which are familiar to her by reason of her previous concert work in Europe. She also will do genealogical research while there. The entire trip will be of about three months' duration.

Ward's Paper-rolling Contest Won By Los Altos High Priests

By Dallas S. Burch

In a four-month rolling contest among priesthood quorums in the Los Altos Ward, the High Priests emerged the winner with an average of approximately seven rolls per member. A summary of the contest showed a total of 443 rolls collected, having an average weight of between 15 and 20 pounds. The total weight thus exceeded three tons, with a sale value of more than $100. The neatly tied rolls of paper continue to be readily salable to nurserymen, florists, and other commercial outlets and the funds are used by the ward for welfare purposes.

Owing to the variations in the different priesthoods, the contest was decided on the basis of performance per member. However, of the 443 rolls collected during the four months, the Elders contributed 140: Senior Aaronics, 131; High Priests, 112; and Seventies, 60. The ladies of the Relief Society cooperated by helping their menfolk.

As an incentive for enthusiastic performance, the bishopric announced, early in the contest, that the losing quorums would treat the winner to a dinner, which materialized late in May. Another stimulating influence was a chart of progress, shown frequently at priesthood meetings, in which the standings of the four quorums appeared graphically.

Another contest covering the months of June through September is now in progress, the winner to be judged on the basis of rolls per active member. This type of friendly competition is commended to other wards as a practical fund-raising measure in which practically the only outlay is a small amount of work.

MIA Officers Receive Big Lift From Conference Sessions

By Marjorie Crooks

"Conference was just wonderful!" was the enthusiastic reaction of Concord Second ward M.I.A. leaders as they returned from general conference filled with many new ideas for the year ahead. Vince Wood, YWMIA superintendent, had an enjoyable trip as he and wife, Gail, vacationed briefly in Utah among friends and relatives during their conference stay. Don Lind, new counselor in the Mutual, returned after the Sunday afternoon session leaving Kathleen and their three children to visit for the next month with relatives in Salt Lake and Logan. Also attending the MIA meet were Lenore Wittwer, YWMIA president, counselors Carleen Harris, and Barbara Green, and Dorothy Thomas accompanied by young daughter Jeannie.

United in marriage on June 12 at the Concord Ward Chapel were Lorraine Reinoldson and Hugh Lyle of Walnut Creek. Bishop Ernest Adams performed the ceremony which was witnessed by close friends and relatives of the couple.

Newly joining the Sunday School staff is Curt Wyndar who has moved into the ward from Ogden. Curt's outstanding talents are enjoyed each Sunday morning by ward members as he leads the congregational singing in Sunday School. Mike Rich will assist him in his musical duties. New to the teaching staff are Juanita and Kevin Griffin.

Jay Fitt, just returned home some three weeks ago from the French mission reported his missionary experiences to the ward on May 31. Jay leaves for the armed services on Monday, June 22.

The month for June heralds the return of many of our young people from their studies at the B.Y.U. Among this group are Jim Helstrom, David Barber and Jay Markham. We also welcomed Ron Nelson back from the "U". Camille Swenson returned from the "Y" after a round trip through Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and California with dad and mother, Virgil and Elise. Their itineray also included a brief visit with brother, Paul, stationed with the navy in Washington.

Recently returned from vacations "in the tops of the mountains" are Bud Jensen, wife Karen, and children; Twila and Marion Caldwell; and Jim and Mary Alice Duffin and their four little ones.

NaVee Wyndar and children are in Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, visiting with her parents.

The MIA has been hard at work now for some time on the road show for this year which promises to be unusual and interesting. It is under the direction of Brother Lind and Sister Musser.

Joan Snow's Primary board recently honored their president at a housewarming at Jim and Joan's new home on El Campo Court.

Sustained as deacon's quorum presidency is Jim Gautier with counselors Phillip Nelson and Richard Fitt and secretary, Randy Crooks.

Our ward has its share of beautiful new babies. Tess and Bill Kennon welcomed daughter Julie Dawn; brother Lance came to join three older sisters and parents Marie and Charlie Olorenshaw; and Jeanne and Durland Carney gratefully received their fourth child and second daughter, Kimberly.

Enjoying a brief trip to Idaho early in June were Lucille and Frank Colombo and young son, Mike.

Called to new responsibilities in the Relief Society are Joyce Breeland, Secretary and Twila Caldwell, luncheon chairman. The Relief Society is sponsoring weekly sewing classes for all women and girls of the ward who are interested in learning the oh-so-useful art of sewing and tailoring. These classes are being given under the direction of Nana Lea Busby and baby sitters are being provided.

Come join friends of both Concord wards in a fun day at Mt. Diablo High School swimming pool every other Saturday - starting June 13. Swimming is from 2 to 6.

Claremont Ward

Members Win UC Degrees

By Betty Moss

Claremont Ward celebrated two weddings last month. On June 20 Patricia Carr, daughter of the Elmo Carrs, was married in the Los Angeles Temple to David Duncan. A reception was held at the University of California Alumni House on June 26.

Sandra Tucker was married on June 27 to Stanley Ellexson. The ceremony took place in the ward, and a reception was held afterward. Sandra is the daughter of the John Tuckers.

June brings with it graduation time, and every year Claremont Ward has its share of graduating crop. The University of California awarded a masters degree in English history to Bill Lye. Among those receiving bachelors degrees were Jeane Reiche in home economics, Sim Cragun in electrical engineering, Doug Hinckley in engineering, Jon Rosenlof in accounting, and Kevin Watts in architecture. Ron Johnston graduated from the California School for the Deaf. Our high school graduates were Ernie Ahlborn, Wally Carr, Bryan Feeley, Judy Pennock, and Varol Shaw.

The ward is also proud of the graduation from Seminary of six of its young people. They were Ernie Ahlborn, Wally Carr, Bryan Feeley, Judy Pennock, Ann Reiche, and Varol Shaw. Graduation requires the completion of three years of work in daily classes.

John Reiche has been selected by the United States Navy to take part in its educational program He will receive a scholarship for four years of college work. John is currently in school at San Diego.

We are sorry to see many of our friends leaving at this time. Some of our goodbyes have been said to the families receiving degrees from the University. Bill Lye and his family left for Rexburg, Idaho, where he will teach at Ricks College. The John Rosenlofs have accepted a position with an accounting firm in Seattle. Also headed for Seattle are the Doug Hinckleys, who will be associated with Boeing Aircraft. Kevin Watts has accepted a position with an architectural firm in Oakland.

Merlin Shaw, who has been working on a Doctor of Education, has returned with his family to their home in Murray. He has accepted a position teaching religion at Brigham Young University, and will return to Berkeley during summers to complete work for his degree.

Lou and Yvonne Wood, who have been with us while Lou was doing graduate work at the University in physics, have accepted an opportunity to continue graduate study at U.C.L.A., and have recently left to make their home there.

Patricia Carr

Dick and Barbara Carlson will be heading East for a year to the University of Pittsburg where Dick will do post-doctorate work in the field of education.

Ron Johnston and his mother, Ethel Johnston, have returned to their home in Idaho after the completion of Ron's studies at the School for the Deaf.

A rash of home buying has broken out in the ward, with the Bert Wheables moving to Pleasant Hill, the Jerry Meuters to Fremont, and the Bob Burnhams to Pleasant Hill.

The ward welcomed back Winifred Irving after the completion of a successful foreign mission to Mexico. Winifred reported to the ward in Sacrament Meeting on her two years work.

Bob Burnham received a release from stake missionary work where he has served for two years. Bob has been district president since November.

Fred and Vera Reiche have accepted a call to stake missionary work. as have three students from the "Y" who are home for the summer. They are Dave Tucker, Bryan Key, and Helen Borrensen.

Claremont Ward is looking forward to another western barbecue in July, put on in grand style by the Elders Quorum. Plans are going forward for July 17,and another dinner as delicious and evening as entertaining as last year is promised.

Former Deacons Attend Reunion

San Mateo Second Ward former deacons attended a dinner at the home of Willis Eicke, who was their quorum adviser during the two years the 16 boys were deacons.

It was the second annual gathering for the boys, most of whom are priests and soon will be elders. Bishop Worth W. Daniels and Teachers advisor David Shaw were speakers and each of the young men spoke briefly about his plans, mostly concerning college, missions or military service.

Brother Eicke is now in the presidency of the 458th Quorum of Seventy and is a stake missionary.

My Testimony

By Mabel B. Liddell

"If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God or whether I speak of myself." John 7:17

This is the clear, direct method for building a testimony, given us by the Savior. It is such sound counsel; we can readily see that it applies to all learning. For instance: we would never understand geometry without working the problems, or learn by observation alone. In the realm of religion however, we sometimes deceive ourselves and waste precious time by arguing, "I'll not be a hypocrite! When I am convinced that these things are true, I'll live by them" or "I'll go to church when I can live the religion one hundred per cent and not until! In so doing we exactly reverse and set at naught the loving counsel of our Heavenly Father.

Willard A. Boulter, enthusiastic ward clerk in Mission ward has this to say about his life's experience:

'I was baptized when eight years of age and was quite active in the church as a youth but when the time drew near to be ordained a deacon, I refused to go because I was afraid to pass the Sacrament. As a result I soon began association with other inactive boys and for many, many years I drifted away from the Church. Except for singing in the Tabernacle Choir for a time and cccasionally singing at funerals, I lost contact with the Church entirely. Since I was not keeping the word of wisdom, I gave the excuse that I got more out of reading spiritual books than going to church. Actually I was simply a shell, just existing, with very little reason for living.

"Last October I was confined in a hospital from a heart attack and had time to do much praying and thinking. Our kindly bishop and his counselors visited me and not feeling worthy I did not ask him to administer to me. This was surely a mistake because I now know that God is ready to forgive the very moment we are sincere about repenting and taking action to do something about it. I also know that we need association of each other in the Church in order to have strength and inspiration to overcome our weaknesses.

"Not long after my heart attack I began to attend Priesthood meeting and soon I was ordained to the Aaronic Priesthood. Through this and God and paying an honest tithing I have had the greatest peace of mind and spiritual happiness of my life.

"I'm so grateful to my brothers and sisters in the Church for accepting me back and also to my lovely wife and daughter for their encouragement and patience. Activity in the Priesthood has given me an awareness of my calling and obligations. It helps me stay on the straight and happy pathway of life.

"My fears are almost gone, because I have surrendered to God completely. I call on Him many times a day as I'm so sure he knows what is best for me and the help and guidance I need Today I live the life I often dreamed about but never really thought existed. How grateful I am and how many times a day I thank God for another chance to be worthy of his love.

I'm so very sure that without God and the Priesthood I could never succeed; with them, I cannot fail."

29 Graduated From Seminary

The twenty-nine graduates at the San Mateo stake seminary graduation program looked remarkably bright-eyed despite the fact that they had been climbing out of bed an hour or two early to attend the classes, for three solid school years. In fact four of them had gone the extra mile, receiving fourth year certificates.

The program included an instrumental duet by the San Carlos-Redwood City seminaries. After a vocal duet by Betty Jane Leavitt and Gail Jean Groo, the graduation address was given by Terry Warner, recently returned from the British Mission. 4000 Attend Leader Week

By I. B. Ball

Thirty-five hundred adult and five hundred young Latter-day Saints came from points coast to coast for "Leadership Week" on the Brigham Young University campus in early May and crowded into some 150 daily lectures, demonstrations and "Workshops," daily devotionals and evening entertainment in a happy pursuit of knowledge and skills. It was a sight to behold!

This was the 36th Annual Leadership Week at the "Y" which yearly brings progressive spirits from all over the Church in stimulating endeavor to become better leaders in the home the community and the Church.

"Spiritual Ideals of World Living Religions"; Teaching Discipline to Healthy Children"; "Public Speaking in the Church" - these are samples of the menu served all week by BYU professors in the lecture rooms.

Other groups heard about such things as "Anthropology and the Latter-day Saints"; "Jesus and Self-Fulfillment"; "The Story of Archaeology at BYU"; "Trends in Modern Literature" and "Vital Economic Problems."

Genealogy classes were perhaps the largest in number and in attendance during the week, but such classes as "Arts and Crafts" and 'Story telling and Dramatizations' and several "workshops" in various activities were also wonderful drawing cards.

The well - attended devotionals were spiritually fed by such speakers as Elder Henry D. Moyle, now of the First Presidency, Marion D. Hanks of the First Council of Seventy, Governor George D. Clyde, and by perhaps the Church's greatest woman pulpit speaker, President LaVerne W. Parmley of the General Board of the Primary Association.

"The Journeys of the Lehi Rafts" was related by DeVere Baker in an illustrated lecture on the evenings' entertainment program which also presented during the Week a "Physical Fitness Panorama" and also a charming "Dancing Concert" by 50 girls, ages 10 to 14, pupils of a famous dancing school in Salt Lake City.

Localites At BYU Week

Many members of Bay area wards attended the BYU graduation exercises May 9 and also the musical presentation, "Sand in their Shoes" just preceding the graduation day and the Leadership Week. Several stayed on for Leadership Week.

President and Mrs. O. Leslie Stone saw their son Tom graduated with his class. Tom had been student body president during his senior year. Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Jarman, Berkeley First Ward, were there to see their daughter Karen receive her sheepskin, while The Curtin Millwards of Claremont Ward rejoiced to see their son Frank likewise honored.

Miriam Osmond, Berkeley Second Ward, also was present to applaud her son Ralph among the graduating class.

These also attended the wonderful musical presentation, "Sand in their Shoes" as also did the W. Ross McClellans of Hayward, I. B. Ball of Berkeley, Ida Holmes, Edna Brinton and June and Elaine Ellis, Berkeley Second Ward.

Staying for Leadership Week were Ida Holmes, Edna Brinton and I.B. Ball, as well as the Stanley Dallins of Concord, and the Harvey Nielsons of Vallejo.

Students Back From College

By Nelle Hughes

Twelve students from Menlo Park Ward who have been attending the Brigham Young University have returned to their homes for the summer. One student from Harvard, and one student from the San Francisco City College are also home for the vacation period. All report successful happy school years just past and are looking forward to resuming their studies in the fall.

The M.I.A. had a party June 9 to welcome the college students home. Games, chit-chat, and food made the evening an enjoyable one. Many of the students who just graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School plan to attend the B.Y.U., this coming fall.

The M.I.A. is planning to present a one-act play entitled "Elmer and the Lovebug," which tells the story of an all-round outdoor sports fan suddenly being overcome by a bug-bite which is rarely fatal but which can cause sharp pains around and about the aorta.

The summer program of the M.-I.A. will consist of skating parties, beach parties, a hayride, and other activities, along with a wonderful course of study.

Parents of the Trail Builder boys of the Menlo Park Ward were invited to take a trip with them, "Out of this World" for their Fun-da-lay May 22. Every one was furnished an air space hat. After "checking in" the "Take off" consisted of pledging allegiance, led by the Guide Patrol, prayer and dinner. The trip included games such as Dodge the Clouds, Bomber explosion, Flying saucers and air pressure. Concluding the program Community singing was enjoyed by every one.

The parents went home with the feeling they should enjoy more social gatherings with their children. The teachers responsible for the Fun-da-lay were Elizabeth Morris, Blazer teacher; Ruth Thomas. Trekker teacher; Marjorie Hovik, Guide Patrol leader; Glenora Hughes, Second Counselor.

The front porch of the Menlo Park Ward Chapel was transformed into an outdoor French Cafe May 23. The Home Builder girls were having a fashion show and tea for their mothers. The 27 charming fashion modles were the girls from the Lark, Bluebird and Seagull classes modeling their own dresses and sport clothes. Two songs were sung by Marilyn McPhie and a toast was given to the graduating Seagull girls by the Bluebird class president, Susan Thurman. The refreshments were served by French maids, Alberta Sevy, Marlene Jones and Pat Nielsen in their black dresses with little white starched aprons to the many guests seated around tables covered with red and white checked table clothes.

There were sixty people at the French Cafe' including three Stake visitors, Joyce Webb, Norma Williams and Phyllis White. Special thanks should be given to the Home Builder Teachers, Alberta Sevy, Margaret Leigh and Bette Bagley for making the "Home - builders Holiday" so enjoyable for the girls and their mothers.

Stanley Michelson, son of Dorothy Skie of the Menlo Park Ward, who has been attending Brigham Young University is the recipient of a "full tuition scholarship" from the university. Quote - "Brigham Young University takes pleasure in recognizing high attainment and capacity for leadership by presenting this award."

At a Rocky Mountain Press Association conference held in Pocatello, Idaho, by eleven colleges of eight states, Stanley was elected as vice president of business managers. He is also business manager of the school paper "Universe" and was publicity chairman for Home Coming Week. He received a Universe Service Pin for "Outstanding Service" to the publication during the school year.

At the Commencement exercises of Brigham Young University, June 1959, when she received her degree, Ann Brown of Coalville, Utah, announced her engagement to Stanley, the marriage to take place August 21, in the Salt Lake City, Temple.

Pat Stewart, C. L. Herrin To Be Married

By Vera Johnston

Brother and Sister William Stewart announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Joanne, to Curtis Lamar Herrin of Bentonia Mississippi. The wedding will take place on Sept. 11. at the Los Angeles Temple. The reception will be held Sept 18 in the Oakland Fourth Ward Chapel.

Pat, who was graduated from Castlemont high school, attended the B.Y.U. last year where she met Lamar. She has been a member of the Fourth ward all her life. Her father was the second bishop of the ward. She has worked in the Junior Sunday School as organist and is active in M.I.A. Her mother is now the president of the Special Interest Class.

Lamar came from a large Mormon family. Besides his mother and father, who were married in the temple, he has two sisters and four brothers. He has had one year of B.Y.U. but is going to continue his schooling to become a chemical engineer. His uncle Benjamin Alward is the author of "A look at Mormonism." and "Handy Scripture Guide."

A dinner will be held July 31 honoring Werner Verhaaren and Armis Ashby who assembled the organ in the chapel. This dinner will be a little different from the regular monthly dinners and the suggested price asked as a contribution will be 50 cents more than the regular dinner price. This price is for adults. Werner and Armis have put countless hours into the assembling of the organ and have saved the ward around $2,000 on the purchase of an organ fully assembled. Everyone is invited. The Seventies will prepare the food.

Have you noticed the building looking cleaner? The areas that have been cleaned have been done under the direction of Erva Wilson. If you have time to help give Erva a ring and she will direct you. Her telephone number is An 1-7016.

The bishop would like to remind all other officers and teachers that they are to check all lights and doors after a meeting or social before they leave for home. Several times lights have been left on and doors have been left open. He would like also to urge everyone to continue the monthly contributions that have been made to the stake building fund. They have been falling off lately and the ward has $6300 yet to pay by the end of this year. Our assessment was originally $24,350.

The Jim Barton family has left the ward for Utah. . . . Twenty-eight members went to the temple in may and did about 60 endowments. . . . Gayle Elaine Reynolds is a new member of our ward. She came June 6, from the "Spirit Stake" in our Father's Kingdom and will reside with Clark and Iona Reynolds at 2927 Rawson ave. . . . Primary, during the summer, will be held Wednesday morning instead of in the afternoon.

The 82-year old mother of Mary Whiting Neilson of Berkeley First Ward, Fannie Whiting Fullmer, honored mother of seven living sons and seven living daughters was laid to rest April 4 in Menan, Idaho. All the stores of the town closed for the hours of the services.

At the heavily attended services Bishop Albert Fullmer, her seventh son, paid a feeling tribute to her as did also Bishop Oscar Whiting her brother. One granddaughter read the obituary while another granddaughter sang, "Going Home."

The 17th child, Vern, read a tribute to his mother in which he said,. "One wouldn't have thought mother a slacker if she had borne only 16 children, or 12 or even six. But if she hadn't had the 17th I wouldn't be here, nor my sweet six kiddies."

Los Altos Ward

Graduates Of Seminary Give Sunday Talks

As a recognition and honor to the first graduates of the seminary sponsored by the Los Altos Ward, the bishopric devoted a sacrament meeting, near graduation time, to talks by five members of the graduating class. Since its establishment in the ward three years ago, the seminary has had excellent attendance. In the year just closed, enrollment was 30, all of whom finished the course except two who moved from the area. A contributing influence was the faithful support of parents who provided transportation at the early hour of 7 o'clock.

In telling of the benefits of the seminary, Sharon Egan mentioned the mental "lift" from beginning each day with a song and prayer. Kent Francis reviewed the history of the House of Joseph and his descendants and bore a strong testimony to the authenticity of the Book of Mormon. Carolyn McOmber discussed the Book of Mormon further and demonstrated that seminary classes provide a means of more thorough religious study than other Church auxiliaries are normally able to furnish.

Margaret Hixson spoke on the Ten Commandments, early Biblical prophets, and the influence of their lives on Christianity. Christie Malin, in discussing the laws of work and sacrifice, declared that work is a means by which a person grows both mentally and physically. Three other graduates of the same seminary class were Linda Jolley, Brenda Reed and Sharon Miner.

During the meeting Fred Croshaw, the class instructor, received warm words of appreciation. He reciprocated with remarks of pride in his diligent students.

Glenn Smith, another adult speaker, explained that the seminary is for young people of high school age and that, though entirely voluntary, there has been no problem in maintaining enrollment and good attendance. In closing the meeting Bishop Gerald W. Sharp presented the graduates with certificates and commended them for completing the three-year course so capably.

Living first at Wallsburg, Utah with a family of eight children, led in 1909 to fulfill a mission for the Church.This necessitated selling Church. This neceetssitated selling the farm stock to raise $1000 to pay for the mission, and renting the farm to support the family who heroically eked out an existence for two years when all the larger children and the mother worked early and late on a home garden and at other tasks to earn a few extra dollars until father came home. He was there upon called to serve as bishop of the ward.

Six daughters became public school teachers, of which Mary Whiting Neilson is one at the present time, teaching in an elementary school in Richmond.

'Sing We Now At Parting' --

When a ward bishop announces tha the congregations of two other wards that have been sharing the chapel have finally moved into a newly built chapel of their own, it is not normally humorous. Neither, as a valid basis for amusement, is the announcement of a hymn to be sung by the congregation.

But when the second announcement closely follows the first and when the hymn happens to be "Now, Let Us Rejoice," even a devout gathering of Latter-day Saints can be excused for smiles, plus a few ripples of subdued laughter.

Fiction? Not at all. Just an incident occuring during priesthood meeting on the first Sunday after the two Sunnyvale wards had departed and, for the first time in many months, the Los Altos Ward had its chapel entirely to itself.

GOOD SHOW—Large class attending genealogy course at Burlingame chapel proves the old axiom of show business that you have no trouble at the box office if you put on a good show. Star for this evening is Willard Stephens, giving Lesson 9, "Home Teaching." Other teachers were Mabel Fife, Janice Jacobson, and Ruth Worley.

'Good Show' For Genealogy Keeps Customers Coming Out

By Gay Taylor

When 40 people showed up for the first night of a 10-lesson genealogy course held at Burlingame chapel, thanks could be given for aggressive leadership in getting them out. But when, nine weeks later, there were still 34 "regulars" despite the many things that can happen to the very best of intentions, there had to be another reason. In this case it proved to be a series of good lessons by a series of good teachers.

It is an axiom of show business that if you have a good show you do well at the box office. And this is particularly apropos in these days when there are so many bids for the customer's evening.

Attending the genealogy "show" were members of two wards that use the chapel, Burlingame and San Bruno, and also members of Sharp Park branch. The leaders who filled the house for the first performance were the respective Genealogical Committee chairmen: Leland G. Weldron, San Bruno ward; David Todd, Burlingame ward; and Clair Collett, Sharp Park branch.

Publicity for the events was in the form of announcements, personal contact, and dozens of phone calls. A problem faced by the chairmen was to find homes for the home teachers to visit. This took more personal contacts and more phone calls. Leading members of San Bruno ward's Junior Genealogy group were invited to attend the adult session, to maintain interest.

That brought the turnout the first night. But what brought the customers back week after week was the sound program, well presented by the best teachers available.

Teachers have been Willard Stephens, Janice Jacobson, Mabel Fife and Ruth Worley. The lesson program was: 1, Doctrinal Background; 2 and 3, The Pedigree Chart; 4 and 5, The Family Group Sheet; 6 and 7, Research; 8 and 9, Home Teaching; and, 10, The Sutro Library and Research in Archives.

Consensus of opinion from the customers: good show.

Jorgensens Give Farewell Talks

Sacrament meeting of June 14, in the Los Altos Ward, was the occasion for farewell talks by Leland and Lynone Jorgensen, who have changed their residence from Los Altos to Saratoga — nearby yet out of the Palo Alto Stake where the couple has been conspicuously active.

Lynone told of coming to California ten years ago and soon entering into church activities in Palo Alto and Los Altos with resulting cherished ties of friendship. She recalled when the Relief Society in the Branch that preceded the Los Altos Ward, needing a meeting place, met in her home. On the basis of her experience as literature teacher in that Society and in other church positions, she declared," You don't have to be all-wise, or rich, or powerful to contribute - so long as you can do the best you can."

Lee Jorgensen, who has devoted approximately four years to missionary work in the ward and stake in addition to other duties, bore his testimony and expressed appreciation for those of others. He reviewed the origin of the Book of Mormon and the faith-promoting testimonies of Oliver Cowdery, David Whitmer, Martin Harris, together with other events in early church history. At the conclusion of the meeting, friends were invited to the couple's new home at 12870 Woodmont Drive, in Saratoga.

Alexander Back To Peninsula

Good news to the many friends of Woodruff Alexander, formerly in the bishopric of Burlingame ward, is that he is returning to the Peninsula after an absence of five years.

Alexander, a tire specialist, was with Firestone for fifteen years; and then spent seven and a half years with the tire department of Montgomery Ward, where he was in the San Jose store. He is now opening his own Menlo Tire Service, at Menlo Park.

Mary Anne Olson

Shows Talent As Speaker

Mary Anne Olson of Sunnyvale Ward is proving that effective participation in Church goes hand-in-hand with schoolwork of distinction.

Mary Anne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olson of Los Altos, will serve her school, Fremont High School, as Rally Commissioner, Flag Girl, and on the Speakers Bureau in 1959-60, her senior year. She was elected during the closing weeks of school.

At a recent award picnic she was presented with a pin set with an emerald, by the National Forensic League, Her original oration, "Brain Power," won third place trophy at a 30-school contest in San Francisco. The Lions Club of Cupertino awarded her a trophy for her speech on "Complacency" and she was Fremont High School finalist in the Native Sons of the Golden West contest.

Creating modern dance routines for both Church and school has been her hobby and she has appeared on several programs throughout the year.

She has been equally as active in Church. "Building a Testimony" was her topic as youth speaker at Sunnyvale Ward June 21. During the past year she has been assistant to the secretary of Sunday School. An individual award was given to her as a Junior Gleaner. She has completed one year of Seminary.

Berkeley Second Ward

Novel Ideas Demonstrated To Boost Ward's Fellowship

By Vaunee T. Larson

Some novel ideas in increasing Ward fellowship were demonstrated in recent weeks. First of all, the closing Relief Society pary on May 27 drew an overflowing group to hear Margaret Owens present her literature lesson consisting of a review of the year's work on "America's Literature." In keeping with the theme, there were musical numbers by the Singing Mothers, solos by Ellie Hammond, Marion Rasmussen, and Elsa Liotta, duet by Sally Olson and Lettie Hale.

Others taking part were Kay Baer, Virginia Haynes, Emma Harmon, Marion Corbett, Blanche Bagnes, Micky Olson, La Verne Paulson, Marie Holmes, and Gail Larson. A luncheon was served from tables decorated by Ivadell Erickson. The Relief Society room bloomed with flowers artistically arranged by Emma Jenson.

With her own birthday in May, Janet Balmforth entertained all the ward ladies with May birthdays at a luncheon at her home. It was so much fun the group declared they would make it an annual celebration. Those attending were Irene DeRouen, Lurae Storey, Joan Allison, Opal Burt, Barbara Hulme, Frances Kendrick, Marion Corbett, Jane Ricks, Elaine Evans, Afton Young and Olea Woolf.

Don and Marion Corbett invited the entire genealogical class for an evening social in their home. Current work being done on their family lines was shown by Albert Dietliker, Rex Gardner and Don Corbett. Sister Kimball showed mementos of her grandfather, Brigham Young.

Since the ward teaching topic was "Recreation," Cal Smith and Howard Bodily, teaching companions, together with their wives, Jean Smith and Marilla Bodily, entertained the couples on their ward teaching list at a dinner party at the Smith home. Good food, conversation and a few colored slides from each family made it a memorable evening.

The James Kay cottage at Clear Lake was the Memorial Day gathering place for a seminary party of more than 30 young people from the two Berkeley wards. In addition to the Kays the group was chaperoned by Grace and Paul Summerhays, Minerva Bailey, Warren Larson and John Franz Jr. The group enjoyed a bacon and egg breakfast and a hamburger dinner in between swimming and games.

Localites seen at the spectacular "Sand in Your Shoes" at the BYU were Beatrice Lloyd, Ida Holmes, June and Elaine Ellis. Elizabeth Pitt and Lucille Ream. Eldon Ream took part in this production as well as Sunya Evans of Berkeley First Ward. Ida Holmes attended Leadership Week meetings.

Warren Larson was guest speaker at the June meeting of the Golden Gate Audubon Society held in San Francisco. He illustrated his talk, "Between the Tides," with his colored slides. For the second summer Warren will be a State Park Naturalist for three state parks in the Fort Bragg area. This summer McKerricher Beach State Park will be his home address.

Dr. Gordon Langlois has been promoted to supervising chemist at California Research Corporation. Formerly a group supervisor, Langlois is responsible for exploratory research in the petroleum process research division of Cal Research.

Wydonna Bodily, a June University of California graduate, is beginning her year's internship in dietetics at the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland, Oregon. Her family, the Dr. Howard Bodilys, took her up to Oregon on their vacation trip.

Bill Crockett and Nina Paulson are attending summer school at Brigham Young University. Home for a vacation from the "Y" are Karen Olson, Eldon Ream, David Crockett and Bill Burke. From Stanford has come David Owens; from U.S.C., Gary Liotta, and from Davis, Dorothy Coltrin who will attend Cal in the fall where she has been awarded a scholarship. Richard Jenson is attending AROTC Camp George at Victorsville, California for a month.

At the stakewide graduation ceremony in the Interstake Center, eight young people from our ward received their graduation certificates for faithfully attending for three years. Honored were Linda Quinton, Julia Summerhays, Pat Gray, Bill Franz, Duane Free, Danny Bagnes and Ken Kennedy.

Confidence in their leadership ability has been given to Brooke Derr, elected student body president of El Cerrito High School. Lynn Storey, elected Junior Class president of De Anza High School and Larry Gilbert, elected Boys' Commissioner of Albany High.

In competition with other schools held at Palo Alto, the Berkeley A Cappella choir, of which Shari Evans was a member, won a superior rating and the Harmoneers, Berkeley High Boys' Chorus, of which Don Carpenter of our ward and Steve Baer of the First Ward are members, also won a superior rating.

Out of town visitors: Laura Stay and sons Paul and Carl flew in from Denver to visit her parents, the Paul Summerhays'. Mrs. Nellie Walters from Salt Lake City is visiting her daughter's family, the George Olsons. Visitors at the Lowell Flamm home have been Peggy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. La Rain Marble of Tremonton, Utah, and Lowell's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bahen of Escondido, Calif.

Leonore Robinson and her three daughters from Fresno, visited at the home of her parents, the Dr. Douglas Reams', awaiting the birth of her fourth child, a son, delivered by Dr. Ream who has officiated at the births of all his grandchildren.

Alan Balmforth has been ordained a Deacon. James Robert Allison was blessed by his father, Robert W. Allison, Jr., Thomas Butler, confirmed by Calvin Kuhre, and David Wallace confirmed by Bishop Owens

Counselor George Olson, in announcing the date of Oct. 16, for the annual Ward Bazaar, with Clyde Rasmussen as general chairman, said, "This bazaar, has had a tradition of success and we don't want to lose it. It is not too early to get started with sewing, plants, home canning and preserving in preparation for this bazaar."

Ray Karpus reminds us that our old newspapers in bundles are picked up regularly if they are stacked behind the Church. These are necessary and useful in the High Priests' project. If you cannot get them to church, please call Ray at LA5-1018.

R. Lee Kenner Receives Honor

Elder Godfrey Wins Award

Elder Lee V. Godfrey has graduated with top honors from the San Francisco College of Mortuary Science, receiving a special award for his abilities in the field of mortuary science and funeral directing. He is the son of Melva Rainey of Oakland, who has been Messenger reporter for 10 years.

Elder Godfrey has been living in the Oakland Third Ward with his wife and two children while attending college.

Born in Rexburg, Idaho, April 21, 1929, Lee moved with his mother to live with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sainsbury, when he was two months old, after his father died.

Later they all moved to Washington and it was there he met, baptized into the Church and married Joyce E. LeMieux, while attending high school in Tacoma. After four years in the Navy during the Korean conflict Lee was in Oak Harbor, Wash., where he was was Scout counselor and was a house construction foreman. The Godfreys adopted a boy, David, now 3 and a half, and less than two years later Joyce gave birth to a girl, now 1 and a half.

Because of a disabling accident Lee returned to Tacoma, where he resided until the family moved to Oakland. In Oakland Third Ward Joyce has been teaching a Primary class.

Shortly after they arrived in Oakland David was struck by a truck, injured, hospitalized for seven weeks and in a body cast for another seven weeks. The family expresses thanks for the help and prayers of friends.

Elder Godfrey has been offered an opportunity to serve in the San Bernardino Stake in Fontana, Calif., and will serve his apprenticeship in the Ingold Mortuary for two years. This is an LDS mortuary.

Pioneer Day Celebration Scheduled Here

Oakland-Berkeley Stake members, recalling the words of the famous prophet and pioneer, Brigham Young, who said "This is the Place," will conduct a colorful July 24th celebration this month.

Manton M. Moody, general chairman of the event, says that plans are completed for events that will be the greatest ever staged in the Bay Area.

Just 112 years ago the pioneers entered Salt Lake Valley and their leader, Brigham Young, said the famous phrase, "This is the Place."

LeRoi B. Gardner, of Berkeley, said that this will be the first of a series of annual Pioneer Day programs for the Oakland-Berkeley Stake.

The MIA will present three performances of the play, "Sight Unseen." The first of the series will be for the children and will be held in the auditorium of the East Bay Interstake Center on Monday evening, July 20. Tickets will cost 25 cents. The play will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The other presentations will be on the evenings of July 23 and July 24, Thursday and Friday evenings, starting at 8:15 p.m. Tickets for these performances will sell for $1.25 per person. An arrangement has been made with the MIA ward organizations to return to them 25 cents for each ticket sold.

The traditional picnic will be held Saturday afternoon at Castle Rock a resort southeast of Walnut Creek, where a large portion of the resort has been set aside for the LDS group.. There will be swimming, baseball, horseshoes, races and games.

A small charge at the gate entitles everyone to use all the facilities without further cost, said Elder Gardner. Prizes will be given to the children and soft drinks and light refreshments are available.

A Pioneer Day dance will be held in the Recreation Hall at the Stake Center on Saturday night All members of the church in the Bay Area and their friends are invited to the dance and the play.

On the Sunday evening previous to this holiday all Sunday Schools will commemorate the occasion.

Young Artists To Show Work

The LDS Progressive Art Association, an East Bay organization for the promotion of art among the young as well as the professionals of the region sponsored by the Liahona Club announces its first exclusive "LDS Youth Art Exhibit" to be held at the Interstake Church Center on Temple Hill September 5 and 6.

These dates mark the sessions of the quarterly conference of the Oakland-Berkeley Stake which holds an evening session Saturday Sept. 5 and three meetings on Sunday Sept. 6.

The pictures will be grouped by wards, and will be hung in the Interstake Recreation Hall.

Only young LDS artists' work will be shown on this occasion. Registration is earnestly solicited by our budding workers in oils, pastels or watercolors.

Early registration is urged and may be made with members of the committee in charge: Thora Bramwell, KE 6-1060; Lula McCarthy, KE 4-4616; Ann Crockett, LA 6-1828 or I. B. Ball, TH 8-8131. Young people are invited to talk about this exhibit one with another in each ward and encourage many to participate.

SUE GREGORY begins to choose paintings to be shown at Youth Art Exhibit at East Bay Interstake Center Sept. 5 and 6.

San Carlos Ward

Church Grows In England, Says Warner

If you value your freedom, keep alive your free agency. On this theme Elder Terry Warner, home from his mission in England, spoke to his home San Carlos Ward in Sacrament Meeting. Giving a glowing account of missionary progress in England since the completion of the Temple there, he told of a gracious queen's approval of the edifice and of her expressed admiration and that of thousands of her subjects. This young elder watched the birth of the new era in the Mission with its accompaniment of many baptisms and new interest and tolerance from the people there, reminding him of the first era there when Heber C. Kimball and Wilford Woodruff saw hosts of people baptized.

Elder Warner wrote of these things for the Millenial Star, as its associate editor.

Following the Sacrament Meeting, Elder Warner was guest speaker at the High Priest Hearthside at the home of his parents, Clifford E. and Beryl Warner. He enlarged upon his theme and answered questions relative to conditions in England, its people and its economic situation. Because of government-owned industry, the people have very little of their free agency left to them, he said.

Terry Warner plans to complete his education at the B.Y.U.

The Homebuilders of San Carlos Ward Primary held their mothers and daughters "Homebuilder's Holiday" party last month. The theme was Hawaiian and teachers wore Muu-Muu's while serving luncheon and keeping the games going.

Highlight of the afternoon's fun was the contest in which daughters made dresses for their mothers out of newsprint, and the mothers modled the dresses.

Teachers serving the girls and their mothers were Beverly Green, Ruth Stevens, Shirlene Spencer, Elaine Pendleton and Janet Daines. Beverly Green was mistress of ceremonies.

Elder Roland Griffin, now laboring in the French Mission, has been called to be second counselor to the Mission president and will be traveling in Switzerland, Belgium and France. Previously Elder Griffin was branch president in Geneva, Switzerland, and later district president in Brussels, Belgium, for six months.

Elder Griffin is the son of Ivan and Martha Griffin and his address now is 3, Rue De Lota, Paris 16, France.

The local fine handcrafts which will also be displayed is designed for challenging homecraft skills and artistic effects in various media.

This whole event is the first one of its kind in the local stakes. The main thought behind the program is to unite several of the arts in a conjoint talent evening program.

W.S. Durrant, Stake Leader; Moving To Utah

President Durrant has been active in Church affairs on the Peninsula during the past ten years of his employ with Bank of America. He recently attended the annual Credit Congress of the Petroleum Credit Association, where he received the Meritorious Ascievement Award of the National Association of Credit Management for "The most outstanding report submitted to the Graduate School of Credit and Financial Management at Dartmouth College for the year 1958." Dr. Merrill Sees Need For Golden Rule could get to know their families, their way of life, their hopes and needs in their 'pursuit of happiness,' we wold have a foundation for lasting understanding and peace. We must find a means for social communication." concluded Dr. Merrill.

Born in Richmond, Utah, Dr. Merrill has an impressive professional background. The biographical data on his education and degrees, teaching and research appointments, vocational and professional affiliations, honorary society membership and his numerous written contributions to scientific journals fills three type-written pages of information gleaned from the California Blue Book in the public library.

"I've found that my Church membership has never presented any difficulties in the pursuit of my life's work. In fact I believe that being a 'Mormon' has been in my favor. Especially when my abstinence is noticed at social events." replied Elder Merrill when asked if being a Mormon had any effect in the advancement of his career.

He added that he felt no embarrassment in practicing his principles even when his reputation for drinking "toasts" in mineral water preceded him wherever he went touring Russia. The habit was accepted with loud amusement and the Soviet doctors declared that the doctor had inaugurated a new drink, "mineral-water vodka."

Director of a personnel of 1100 men and women, Dr. Merrill believs that, "the purpose of life is to be of service to others." Having taken this philosophy while an undergraduate at Utah State University, he had the good fortune to serve as assistant to M. J. Rosenau, Harvard University Professor of preventive medicine and public health, and was inspired to take steps toward this area of community service.

At St. Louis University he earned his doctor's degree as well as his Master's in bacteriology. He interned at University of California Hospital and his residency, (medicine) at U.C. All the while he served on teaching and research appointments until 1937 when he accepted an appointment as chief of one of the bureaus in the Public Health department. He was named director in 1954 and in addition he lectures at the School of Public Health at U.C.

In 1957 Dr. Merrill was one of a five member team of doctors who toured over 8500 miles of the Soviet Union. He was appointed by the U.S. State department as a consultant to India to study ways in which the U.S. could help that country through the foreign aid program. During this mission, which lasted only one month, the doctor traveled alone over six to seven thousand miles of that country. He still corresponds with some of the doctors he met there and has entertained a few in his home.

The Guatamala visit was a member of the Technical Advisory Committee of the Institute of Nutrition of Central America and Panama in 1958.

Dr. Merrill's marriage to Thelma Holdaway of Eureka, Utah, has been blessed with three children. Donald, who is married and father of two children, lives in San Francisco where he is specializing in Radiology at U.C. Hospital; Bruce has earned his doctor's degree in dentistry at the Dental College of Physicians and Surgeons; and daughter, Jean, who is majoring in Elementary Education at U.C.

The Merrills came to California in 1935 and were four years across the Bay where Elder Merrill was a member of Serge Lauper's bishopric in Sunset Ward, San Francisco. They lived in the Bay area for twenty years and are members of Berkeley First ward, Oakland-Berkeley Stake.

Established in 1870, the California Public Health Department is the second oldest in the nation. It is the most advanced service of its type in the country. Its ten member board, consisting of 7 physicians, one dentist and two lay members, functions as a policy making, regulatory, judicial and licensing body. There are seven divisions in the department with supervision over 16 bureaus and three services. Howard L. Bodily, Ph.D. of Berkeley First ward is chief of the Bureau of Laboratories and Dr. Hamlet C. Pulley, a San Francisco Latter-day Saint, is a member of the Local Health Services.

Creative Workshop Organized Is Los Altos

Opportunity for training in speech and dramatic art, in the Los Altos area received impetus through the recent organization of a Creative Workshop in those fields by a group of young women all but one of whom are members of the Los Altos Ward. Originating with Gwen Riches, who saw the need for a local development of this kind, the workshop is directed mainly to the training of children, yet several adults have enrolled.

The instructors are college trained women accredited in speech, drama, music, art, and related fields. Through LDS activities, most of them have developed their natural talents further and are well known to Bay Area audiences. The underlying purpose of the workshop is creative rather than remedial and includes the development of confidence, poise, and correct posture as elements of good speaking habits. Instruction is both individual and in groups. Typical objectives are preparation for talks at church and service in the mission field.

To help in training young people for plays and public speaking, the workshop includes a children's theater and instruction in dramatic art. The first play, with a cast of ten, ran throughout the week ended June 30 and received highly favorable public comment. Gwen Riches is the managing director of the cultural enterprise, having offices at 366 State St., Los Altos. Other staff members and consultants, whose talents range from speech-art to stage directing and from music to costuming, are Margaret Laundry, Marguerite Neely, Susan Olsen, Elsie Ramsden, Marilyn Sharp, Shirley Little, Jane Hall, and Joyce Bohnne.
